Australia is the world capital of the socially-conscious billboard defacer. The acronym BUGA-UP (Billboard Utilising Graffitists Against Unhealthy Promotions, as if you didn't know) has become world famous. Who can for get such classics as the Coca Cola poster where, under the slogan "SMILE!", was added "While you've still got teeth".

This proud tradition is alive and well. An anti-litter poster near the Tribune office features the words "It's only an apple core - RUBBISH!" To which has been added "Compost?".
